

Any weakening of the "Do not call" list would be a major step backward. I deeply resent paying for a telephone that could be used free of charge by any business or person that wishes to conduct business "free of charge" against my wishes and against my wishes. Especially elderly people like myself are greatly annoyed to get up and answer a telephone only to find it an annoying sales message. Do not touch the New Jersey Law in any respect!